

Mechanism of spreading knowledge

At the video conference held on March 19 this year, we all discussed the issue of raising the interest of young people to the books to enhance the spirituality of the youth, their meaningful organization. At the meeting, the head of state pointed out that each leader had given ten books to the school library from his own personal library and that such a noble initiative would contribute to the development of reading skills and had a positive impact on the upbringing of our children. Supporting this initiative of the President of the Republic of Uzbekistan, Abdullayev Zafar Sayfiddinovich, the head of the Department of "Information and Communication Technologies" of faculty of "Organization and Management of Water Resources", the Youth Initiative Primary Organization presented books to the secondary school No.12 in Yunusabad district. It's fun to go to the school you studied, and it's an important mechanism to share that education. Schoolchildren learn from you and try to be like you. It's the first thing that comes up with them when you capture the book you have presented. Together with the presentation of books, activists of the Youth Union of the Institute, youth leaders of the faculty Haytboy Iskandarov, Sukhrob Temirov, Ma'ruf Baratov actively participated in the program of the spiritual and educational program. Students demonstrated their performances to schoolchildren. Quizzes were organized, gifts were shared, QVZ Creative team performed. We thank all those who organized and participated in the event on behalf of the school community. The initiatives will continue.
