

CLUBS

The Club "Talented Economist" is organized at the department and more than 30 bachelor students take part in it. There are not only the students of economics among them, but also some students from technical directions.

In this academic year, under the guidance of the senior teacher S.Ikromova the Club "Me, The World and Economics" was organized. The purpose of this community is to increase students' interests in the world economy and foreign economic relations of our country.

In 2016-2017, the results of students` research have been announced at republican and inter-institutional conferences.
