
Subjects taught at the department

№	Subject name	Brief information about the subject
1.	Uzbek language	The student must master the genres of oral speech that are necessary for free communication in the course of work; be able to conduct a business conversation, exchange information, give an assessment; make reports, criticisms and suggestions; observe the rules of speech etiquette, conduct business documentation in Uzbek.
2.	Academic writing	Purpose of the subject: to introduce students to scientific activities, scientific text and its types, information that should be reflected in each text, various information, correct and logical composition of sentences and texts, developing skills in writing academic texts, developing knowledge, skills and oratory skills, providing information about terms related to socio-political life and their specialty, the features of their choice and application.
3.	Russian language	In the process of teaching Russian to 1st year students, educational, educational and communicative goals are realized. The main task of teaching Russian to students is the formation and improvement of their communicative competence in the socio-political, educational, professional and socio-cultural spheres of communication.